Wool Growers Urged To Cast Ballots

All eligible wool growers were urged today to cast their ballots in the referendum on the wool and lamb market—development program. William T. Carruth, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, said that he hopes for the most representative vote ossible.

Growers eligible to vote are all those who have owned sheep or lambs 6 months of age or older for at least 30 consecutive days sine last January 1.

T he vote will be held at the ASCS county office through September 23. Voting may be in person or by mail as soon as the ballots are received.

The vote will determine whether or not deductions will continue to be made from payments to producers under the wool program. These deductions finance a program of advertising, promotion, and related activities to enlarge or improve the market for wool and lamb. The promotion program is carried out under an agreement made between the Secretary of Agriculture and the American Sheep Producers Council (ASPC), a producer organization, as authorized by

Mrs. Carr To Be Here September 14

Mrs. Waggoner Carr, wife of the Democratic Contender for the U. S. Senate, will be in Comanche September 14.

Mrs. Carr, the former Ernestine Story of Tahoka and Wylis, met her husband at Texas Tech. He was graduated in 1940 and then entered the University of Texas Law School. She taught home economics in Lamesa.

Mrs. Carr is now busy making brief campaign speeches and meeting voters in a "doing what comes naturally" style.

Waggoner is an admirer of women who can stand on their feet and express themselves," says Mrs. Carr.

"And I have no speech training whatsoever", she stated.

Nevertheless she hopes to to help her politicking husband garner the woman's vote and their volunteer electioneering help. Mrs. Carr contends the "Weaker sex" is invaluable for most of the time consuming campaign tasks.

While in Comanche, Mrs. Carr will be at the home of Mrs. Euell Arthur on the Old Sidney Road between the hours of 1 and 230.

All those who are interested in meeting the wife of the Attorney General who is running for the Senate are asked to call at Mrs. Arthur's home.

Every lady in the county has a cordial welcome to call, says Mrs. Arthur. Those who know Ernestine Carr will like to renew your friendship.

INDIANS OPEN GRID SEASON IN DUBLIN FRIDAY

Coach Orland Aldridge and Houston Jolly's Comanche Indians travel to Dublin Friday night to tangle with the powerful Dublin Lions.

Dublin, who has been in District 7-AA for the past several years drops back to class A ball this year, and is suppose to have a strong ball club.

They are rated as the district favorite, over Albany, Ranger and De Leon. The Lions have good experience, with 6 offensive and 7 defensive starters back from last years team which walloped the Indians 34-7.

The Lions have been rated as a 25 point favorite by the Harris System, who rates teams over the state.

Despite the gloom forecast. "We will win", state the CHS coaches in referring to the Dublin game. "Our boys have the desire, and have the man power to win."

The Indians have been looking good in pre-season practices and in the two scrimmages. Blocking and tackling have been sharp, and the spirit is better than in recent years.

Comanche will field a good size team, the offensive line will average 177 lbs. and the offensive backfield averages 165 pounds.

Probably starting offensive team will be: Richard Arthur and T. J. Cottrell, ends; Jerry Williams and Tommy Humphrey, tackles, Danny McKinzie and either Jerry Ellis or Jim Hall, guards; Tom R. Dudley, center; Billy Jack McDonald, quarterback; Gary Paul Johnson and Ronnie Colcleasure, halfbacks and Bobby Reeves fullback.

Starting on defense will be: Arthur and Cottrell, ends; Humphrey and Williams, tackles; Jerry Ellis, middle gaurd; McKinzie and Reeves, linebackers; Dulane Colcleasure, roving linebacker; Ronnie Stanley and Ronnie Colcleasure, halfbacks and Johnson, safety.

"We are in good physical condition, and have no new injuries which can slow us down", state the CHS coaches.

"We think we can win the game and the boys are sure of it," say the coaches who add "that's the kind of attitude that we like to see, and the spirit which can make the Indians a winning team."

Let's all be on hand in Dublin Friday night, to boost the Indians to victory. Kickoff is set for 8 p.m.

Mrs. Sparkman had been brought to the farm home between Pettit and Gustine for a weekend visit with her daughter, Mrs. Delbert Dearen, Mr. Dearen and their two children, Pat 15, and Gwen Dell, 24.

About 3 p.m. Saturday Mrs. Sparkman left the Dearen home, and when she did not return after a reasonable time, members of her family made a search of the nearby area. Unable to locate her, the Dearens solicited the aid of neighbors. They continued the hunt for the lost woman until sundown, then decided to notify the sheriff's office.

Sheriff Boykin states that a search party of some 65 persons was organized, on foot and on horseback, with different areas assigned to each group. The search was continued until about 11:30 Saturday night, then was called off due to heavy rains. The search was resumed at daybreak Sunday.

When Mrs. Sparkman was found, Comanche Volunteer Firemen were dragging a stock tank on the Dearen farm, in fear that she had fallen into the water. First spotting the woman in a pasture southwest of the Dearen farm, was Roland Basham, 302 W. Martin, mechanic at Clemons Motor Company, who thought what he saw might possibly be a goat or sheep, but shouted to three men on horseback to investigate.

First reaching the crouching woman who was waving a hand to attract their attention was S. J. Black, Preston Couch, and Rance Adcock.

Questions and Answers For Vets

Q: I have been told that I am not eligible for treatment at a VA hospital for my non-service connected disability because my military service was in a so-called peacetime period and was not considered wartime service. Is this correct?

A: If you were separated with other than a dishonorable discharge anytime after January 31, 1955, you are eligible for all medical, hospital and domiciliary benefits to which veterans with war-time service and entitled, and on the same priority with war-time veterans.

More $$$ Due Comancheans

Even though they were never employed under social security, many people age 72 or over not receiving social security cash benefits will be eligible for $35 monthly strating with October, 1966, according to Glen McNatt, of the Brownwood Social Security Office. Special application forms are being mailed to all eligible persons who have enrolled for medicare, but anyone now 72 who failed to apply for medicare will have to get the blanks from a Social Security Office.

People who receive old-age assistance from the State Welfare Department cannot receive the special age 72 payment. Also, tohse receiving any government pension such as railroad retirement, teacher's retirement, or civil service retirement, may not be eligible because the special benefit is reduced by the amount of the other kind of payment. However, workmen's compensation and Veteran's Administration payments based upon a service-connected disability or death do not affect the special age 72 payment.

Where husband and wife both receive the age 72 benefit, it will be $52.50 for the couple instead of $35 each.

A social security representative comes to Comanche on regular trips to the county courtroom, and his schedule is posted in the courthouse and in the post office. The Brownwood office at 315 N. Center is open until 5 p. m. Monday through Friday, except that on Wednesdays it remains open until 9 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Durham, David and DeLisa of Richardson spent the weekend in Comanche with Mrs. Durham's parents Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Barker.

FORT WORTH DETECTIVES DON'T CARE MUCH FOR COMANCHE

Editor's Note — The following is taken from Wednesday's edition of The Fort Worth Star Telegram, with a few added notes from us. You all know where Fort Worth is—It's that big city where all the citizens wear suits and where their city detectives are prone to stretch the truth a bit.—WBW

Investigators investigating Investigator J. E. (Billy) Maxwell of the district attorney's office have hit some snags.

Last week County Auditor J. M. (Star) Williams dispatched two agents to Comanche to look into reports that Maxwell, though still on the county payroll here, was living and working there.

"But you know how it is," Williams said Tuesday.

(No we don't but we'll bet that you'll tell us!)

"News spreads fast in a small town and when two strangers show up, they're noticed."

(They were the first strangers that have shown up in Comanin years — and man were they strange!)

The two agents were noticed almost from the time they hit the Comanche city limits — to the extent that they usually had a caravan of local residents following their car.

(What big eyes you have, Grandma.)

"We had from 10 to 12 car loads of on-lookers behind us every where we went," said one of the agents.

(Would you belive, one transient car about a ½ mile back?)

"Then, we went in the courthouse and there must have been a dozen or so folks following us around on foot."

(Would you believe, One small boy and his dog?)

One of the agents said they realized shortly after arriving that they had made a mistake in wearing business suits while on the investigation since most local residents were dressed casually.

(Have you noticed, most of us Comancheans wear cowboy suits, but just the other day I did see a man in a suit, but then it might have been on Sunday.)

"It wasn't hard to spot us," he said.

(You shouldn't wear Green & Purple Pokla-Dot Suits!)

District Atty. Doug Crouch said Friday that Maxwell was living part time in Comanche but also maintains a home in Fort Worth.

(At least he's in Paradise part of the time.)

He said the investigator, although out of the city much, still earns his pay. He said Maxwell is conducting a statistical study of the hot check department in Tarrant County and spends many nights in the office.

(Good For Him!)

Maxwell also is keeping books part time for a trailer company in Comanche, a company executive said.

(Good for him, Again!)

Williams said he will continue his investigation of Maxwell's status on Crouch's payroll.

(Yeah, and we'll have 10,000 cars meeting you at the City Limits!)

Here from Austin

H. R. Lacy and family of Austin were week-end visitors with friends and relatives.

Fire Destroys Home Here

Fire, of undetermined origin, completely destroyed a large frame house and its contents here Wednesday night.

The house, located just outside the Comanche city limits, at the corner of Short St. and U.S. Highway 67-377 East, was owned by Raymond Ratliff, trucking service operator. The dwelling was occupied by Ratliff's son-in-law and daughter, Buddy and Brenda Park. Stored in the house, too, was furniture belonging to a Ratliff son, Ben.

City Police Patrolman Verl Freeman, who turned in the fire alarm, said the interior of the house was almost completely ablaze when discovered.

Fire Marshal John T. Carpenter and Fire Department Chief Willie Tupin said no one was at home when the fire was discovered.

Sidney Junior Class To Have Car Wash

The Junior Class of Sidney High School will hold a car wash Saturday, Sept. 10, at the Cockerham Gulf Service Station, 401 W. Central.

The money raised will be used for the Junior-Senior banquet. All business will be appreciated. Call 356-3490 for pick-up and delivery service.

Ruidosa Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Prather and their daughter, Miss Sandra Prather, vacationed over the Labor Day weekend in Ruidosa.

Local Men Head Area Teen Baseball

The annual state meeting of the Texas Teenage Baseball Assembly was held at the Holiday Inn in Brownwood on August 28. Five directors were elected and the present officers, Pres. Bob Stout, Waco; V P. Foster Rhodes, Brownwood; and Sec. S. C. O'Neal of Waco were reelected by the directors.

There are over 1000 teams and over 15,000 boys in the Texas Teenage Baseball over the state last year. Comanche is a part of this organization. We have three teams in a league. In the senior division we have the Gold Kist Senior team which went to the district tournment in San Angelo. They represented the league in which there are teams from Bangs, Cross Plains and De Leon. In the junior division we have two teams, one the Arthur Chev. & Olds Hot Rods and one sponsored by Higginbotham. These two teams are in the same league with the senior boys with teams from De Leon and Cross Plains. The League in which the teams play in is called The Inner-Cities League. Officers in this league are Pres. Weldon Turner, VP Bo Elrod, and Sec. Wendell Byler. Over 100 boys play in just this area league.

Bo Elrod attended the state meeting in Brownwood.

One interesting thing about the state officials is that they do not get paid for the work they do, they are working people and still find time for the teenagers of Texas. No one gets paid for the work in the assembly from managers to the president as it is a non profit organization.

President Weldon Turner says that we are expecting a much better season next year than the past in both divisions.

Both Weldon and Bo wish to thank all the people who helped at the ball park with the junior and senior teen age ball and any other way they helped the boys.

Advertise More Than Just Prices Says Head Of Journalism School

Samuel S. Talbert, Ph. D.
Department of Journalism
University of Mississippi

Certain types of retailers have traditionally limited their advertising to listing prices and products with little emphasis on the personality of the store itself.

It was assumed that bare essentials of price and product information was all the consumer desired for grocery shopping. Major grocers have found that much more is needed to make advertising complete.

The new attitude is reflected in the current advertising of the Independent Grocers' Alliance. In 3,000 newspapers, the IGA stores are devoting 40% of their advertising space to the task of telling local citizens about the personality of the stores.

Other large retailers are giving similar emphasis to the role of the retail firm as a community institution.

Friendliness of personnel, reputation for fairness, convenience of location, credit policies, variety and quality of brands, availability of parking space, and even the civic activities of clerks and officials may affect the shopping decision.

Institutional advertising emphasizing the role of a company in overall community activities may serve the small store even more effectively than the large business. It is just as important to the service station as it is to the bank.

It is as important to the specialty shop as it is to the department store.

Such advertising may be just as newsy, just as interesting and just as significant to the consumer as price-product information.

For, being human, the consumer may be more interested in how he will be treated than in what he will save. Good advertising should tell him both.

Simpson Family Expresses Thanks

We wish to express our appreciation and thanks to the people in and around Comanche for the many courtesies shown us during the fifteen years that we've been privileged to live and work among you. We especially appreciate the close working relations with district cooperators, Rush Creek Watershed directors, agricultural agencies, churches and schools, Comanche County Court, and our immediate staff for a good job done in furthering the progress in conservation.

We will be at home at 203 E. Garvin at Eastland, where each of you is welcome.

May God bless you in your work of conserving His given resources. — John, Ina and Bennie Simpson.

A similar agreement has been in effect since the 1955 marketing year, following approval by growers voting in referendums. Kitty Lee

"I stood outside your door long enough to say a prayer." —Kitty Lee.

Kitty Lee is a Sunday School teacher. The door on which his brief note was pinned is the door to a hospital room. Inside was a member of her class confined for an indefinite time. A special member of the class? Yes, a special member, as every person is a special person to "Miss" Kitty Lee.

"Miss Kitty", as her friends and class members call her, is the mother of two middle-aged sons and a grandmother. But, beyond that, she is teacher, friend, counsellor to more than a hundred members of the adult Sunday School class she has taught for several years.

"I stood outside your door long enough to say a prayer." These words are packed with meanings and healing values unequalled by impersonal creeds or happiness formulas. When they were read to the patient inside, and for days to follow, the mission of "Miss Kitty" was accomplished. Her presence and her prayer had brough assurance, comfort and hope.

"I stood outside your door." There was no desire nor need to be seen and heard. The self-centered person always intruds as it to say, "Look at me I am here." Not so, in this instance nor in hundreds of others wherein this dedicated Sunday School teacher is a living fulfillment of that which she teaches on Sunday. Her calling card is seldom the same for any two persons. It may be a hot dish of food, a handwritten note, freshly picked flowers or a book to read. But always there is something special for another of her "special" class members. The occasions of her remembrances are as varied as life itself. It ma be a new baby, or grandbaby, a time of bereavement, a birthday or some anniversary. It has become her way of life to remember others "because she cares."

"...long enough to say a prayer." Prayer is the golden strand which binds our soul to God, our mind to truth and our heart to fellowman. Surely this moment of prayer outside a hospital room was the fulfillment of prayer in the finest sense. For only as one's soul is securely bound to God is there time, or even serious thought of speaking with God in behalf of another. In truth, the mind of man is enhanced and motivated by a power other than facts and knowledge. How else can compassion and concern for another be explained. Therefore, for "Miss Kitty" to pause outside a door and say a prayer for another is as normal for her as taking the next breath or flashing a smile across the room to some one in need.

Kitty Lee, listed on the records of her church as teacher, adult division. But young and old alike have inscribed her name on the tablets of their hearts and remember her with grateful praise.

Memo For Modern

By Julia Hunter
Home Economics Director
Lone Star Cas Company

Hamburger, that all-time favorite, can be a budget stretcher and the basis for an exotic recipe.

When shopping for ground beef what should you buy—the package labeled hamburger, ground beef, ground chuck or ground round or ground sirloin? Pre-packaged hamburger or ground beef is usually made from less tender or less popular cuts of beef, but offers excellent value for price per pound. Nutritionally there is little difference though it may have a higher proportion of fat for the fat lean contains some protein, vitamins and minerals. Ground chuck is good for beef patties for it has enough fat to prevent the patties from drying out as they are cooked. When ground round or sirloin is used for patties, have the butcher grind a little beef suet in with the meat for added moisture. Remeber there is more shrinkage in cooking less expensive meat so plan on smaller portions or fewer servings per pound when using plain hamburger.

When mixing hamburger for patties, whether to be served on a bun or plain, vigorous stirring with a spoon or excessive pressing will give a stringy, less palatable texture. The same is true when making meat loaf. Mix with a fork or by hand and shape with the hands. When meat loaf is to be packed into a loaf pan, pack lightly.

Bunburgers

For a switch from hamburger patties on a bun, try baked Bunburgers. Hollow out centers of 6 hamburger buns, leaving bottom and ½" rim. Crumble the bread removed from buns and mix with 1 lb. lean ground chuck, 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon of pepper and 1½ cans (8 oxs. each) tomato sauce. Fill the buns with the meat mixture and place on a baking sheet. Bake in moderate oven (375 F) for 20 minutes. Spoon remaining tomato sauce over buns, and continue baking 5 minutes or until sauce is hot. Makes 6.

Beef in Casserole

Beef in Casserole is a main dish fit for a party but, thanks to the "do-ahead" possibilities, it makes an excellent family meal on a busy day. In a large skillet combine 1 pound ground beef, 2 teaspoons salt, 2 teaspoons sugar, 1 can (16-oz.) tomatoes, 1 can (8-oz) tomato sauce, 2 cloves garlic, crushed, and pepper to taste. Cook over a very low flame 5 to 10 minutes. Cook 1 package (5-oz) thin egg noodles according to package directions and drain. Mix with noodles, 1 cup sour cream, 1 package (3-oz) cream cheese and 6 chopped green onions (use some of the tops). In a greased 3-quart casserole, arrange the meat and noodle mixtures in alternate layers with 1 cup grated American cheese. Bake in a moderate oven (350 F) 35 min. Makes 8 servings. This may be prepared ahead of time and stored in the refrigerator, without baking. Bake just before serving. Since this casserole makes a "one-dish" meal you may wish to increase the amount of meat. Up to 2 lbs. may be used without increasing the other ingredients.

Spaghetti and Meat Balls

Try 45-minute Spaghetti and Meat Balls for a quick take-off on an international favorite. In a deep, heavy skillet, cook 3 diced slices bacon, 3 tablespoons chopped onion and 3 tablespoons chopped green pepper over a medium flame until brown. Add 1 can (1-pt. 2-oz) tomato juice. Season 1½ lbs. ground chuck to taste and shape into balls. Add meat balls to tomato mixture. Sprinkle 1 package (7-oz) broken, uncooked spaghetti over top. Cover and cook over low flame 45 minutes. Bay leaf may be added to tomato mixture, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

Beef Mushroom Loaf

Add convenience foods to convenient ground beef for this Beef Mushroom Loaf. Pour ¾ cup milk over 1½ cups soft bread crumbs. Add 2 pounds ground beef, ½ teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 1 package (1½-oz) dehydrated onion soup 1 can (4-oz) chopped muchrooms and liquid, ¼ cup catsup and 2 beaten eggs. Mix thoroughly and pack into a 9x5x3" loaf pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350 F) for 1½ hours. Makes 8 servings.

The Mavericks are showing improvement, and should get stronger as the season developes. Cross Plains is suppose to have a good ball team. Second only to Goldthwaite in the district, but we'll still stay with Eastland over Cross Plains.

Sidney over Gordon. Coach James Able's Sidney Eagles are much stronger this year year than in the past. Don't know much about Gordon, but predict Sidney to win easily.

The Gustine - Brooksmith game should be a thriller. Brooksmith always has a good team, and Gustine is rebuilding after winning two district championships in a row.

We'll go with the home county folks and pick Gustine over Brooksmith.

Howard Payne is still a young ball team, with only 3 seniors on the squad, and look like they are a year away from being a winner.

In Memory Of Burl Terry

In Memory of Burl Terry
By John Lightfoot

Burl Terry was born June 26, 1877 and passed away Aug. 26, 1966 at the age of 89 years and two months.

I have known Burl since the year 1889. He was a native of Comanche County and never lived in any other part of the State. He spent a few years near Rucker and he and the late John Nabors planted the first commercial peanuts in the county, about 1907 or 1908.

He was of a pioneer family who came to this county in the early seventies. His father and mother, John and Alice Terry, were the parents of seven boys and six girls. Only two girls remain, Alice of Clyde and Florence of Fort Worth.

Burl was a man of jovial disposition. I remember when he lost one of his eyes while squirrel hunting. He would laugh and say he could see better with his glass eye than with his good eye. He lived on the north side of Sabanna Creek and we lived on the south side. Burl was ever helpful, never failed to do his duty in anything for the good of the community.

His wedding was the first I can remember. He was married to Maggie Hardin, daughter of the late Joe Hardin. Burl and Maggie were the parents of six boys and three girls.

It was my good fortune to teach each of those children in the sixteen years that I taught at New Hope (Sabano). They had the best of training at home so we had no problems. If we had more parents today like them, there would not be so much juvenile delinquency today.

Burl and Maggie were members of the Methodist Church at New Hope. Their oldest son, Raymond, became a minister from that church. He served, and is still serving, his church with distinction. Only Ely remains across the creek now, the other children have gone east and west. They are all fine children and very faithful to their parents until the end.

Burl, may you rest in peace until we join you in the great beyond. Many more things I could say. With love and kindness to all. Farewell.

Home from Hospital

Lowell Pittman, City Superintendent, has returned home from a Fort Worth hospital where he underwent treatment for a pinched nerve.

Here from Granbury

Here from Dallas

The Tom F. Reese, Jr. family of Dallas visited with the Joe Waring family over the Labor Day weekend. Reese, a cousin to Waring, is assistant to Henry Wade, Dallas District Attorney.

high school had more than one 200-pounder on its whole football team. Today, the coach gets out the crying towel if his defensive line doesn't average at least 205. And our professional guards and tackles would simply confirm our ancestors in their unshakeable belief in orgres and giants if they were vouchsafed one horrified look at Coach Halas' "Monsters of the Midway," for example.

Track and field marks in our own time so far surpass the best efforts of 50 years ago as to make our grandfathers look ludicrous. Part of this is no doubt due to better coaching, improved training methods and more scientific conditioning, but not all of it, by any means. The human body is bigger, stronger and faster than it used to be.

Why?

The popular explanation is that we're giving kids more milk, nicely pasteurized and irradiated, than we used to. Vitamins, minerals and proteins share the credit with sunlight, fresh air and better doctors. And I suppose that a centtury from now our descendants will be inclined to attribute the whole thing to Medicare and the Great Society.

I don't believe a word of it.

Our pioneer forefathers got one heck of a lot more sunlight and fresh air—yes and fresh food—than we get today. Their relatively high death rate stemmed largely from the fact that they knew nothing of the germ theory of disease and had a regrettable habit of building their privies entirely too close to their wells. Half their babies died before they reached the age of five, mostly because of ignorance.

Similarly, we lose an appalling percentage of our population today to accidents, cancer and heart disease, often at an embarrassingly early age. We foul up our atmosphere with smog, our rivers and lakes with sewage and our soil with strontium fallout. Again, mostly because of ignorance.

Neither set of mortality statistics impresses me as being a reasonable cause either of our ancestors' small size or our own comparative giantism. If you ask me, we've got a mutational trend running, similar in some ways to the trend which ran about the year 10,000 B.C., when genus homo, who had been happily and hairily living in caves for hundreds of thousands of years with little visible change, suddenly emerged into the sunlight and started building pyramids and carving Abu Simbel.

It would be nice if Providence would arrage a corresponding jump in our mental and artistic potential to go along with our added pounds and inches, wouldn't it?

I suppose this is too much to expect, though.

By the way, have you noticed how big women's feet are getting?

HEARING TEST
Set For Comanche

Free Electronic hearing test will be held in Comanche. Anyone that has a hearing problem of any kind is welcome to come in for the test.

Mr. Treadway

Picture of the ear showing how the ear works, and why a person loses his hearing, also the nerve system of the brain to tell us what we have herad. Each person is tested with the latest electronic machine that can pinpoint in what part of the ear there is trouble and what can be done to help them.

Each person can see how a simple operation on the ear has let thousands of people hear again. How the new electronic devise is helping thousands of people with thee dreaded NERVE DEAFNESS to hear again. How 2 year old children are being fitted with aids and can learn to hear and talk. How packed wax in the ear canal affects the hearing. How head congestion affects the hearing.

Everyone should have a hearing test at least once a year if they have any hearing loss. Even people that wear Hearing Aids should have a test. People that have been told that nothing could be done for them should have a test each year, as new ways are being discovered to help these people.

The test in Comanche will be held at the DeLuxe Motel, Monday, Sept. 12th from 10 A.M. to 12:00 Noon.

Mr. Joe Treadway who is an Audiotician will conduct the test through the courtesy of the Temple Hearing Center at 108 S. Bell in Hamilton. If you miss the test you may come to the Hamilton office any Friday between 9 AM and 4 PM and take your test.

CHS B-Team, Frosh Edge Blanket 6-0

The Comanche B-Team, under the direction of Coach George Ellis and the CHS Frosh, coached by Bob Clopton, journey to Blanket last Friday to scrimmage the Class B Tigers.

Comanche scored one touchdown while holding the Tigers scoreless in two hours of play. The score came late in the scrimmage when fullback Billy Bradshaw crashed over from the two yard line.

Earlier in the game, Comanmarched to the two yard line, but ran out of downs.

Blanket mounted only one serious scoring drive during the scrimmage, when they had a first down and goal-to-goal on the five yard line. Comanche's defense rose to the occasion and stopped them short of the goal-line.

The Frosh and the B-Team divided play almost equally, and both teams played well. The locals offense had not advanced as far as the defense, but that is to be expected this earlry in the season.

The Braves will open season play here, Thursday, Sept. 15 against the Rising Star B-Team. The Frosh were to open against the Early B-Team, but Early cancelled. The coaches are trying to find a game for the 15th.

The wraps are coming off Auto showrooms across the nation are beginning to bulge with new 1967 models. Chrysler's preview last week reveals some of the newest so-called safety features soon to be seen on all makes, including a telescoping, shock-absorbing steering post. Being impaled on the steering mechanism is a deadly thing and eliminating this possibility is a long step forward in building safer cars. Still the manufacturer can't improve the carelessdriver of his product. This fellow is the culprit in most highway wrecks.

Former president, Harry Truman, was reported recently to have critized some of the tactics this Administration is using in prosecuting the war in Viet Nam. Mr. Truman is hardly in position to question the methods and proceedures being used in this war. When he fired General MacArthur, one of the greatest generals this country has ever produced, after MacArthur had the Korean war practically won, he forfeited whatever right of criticism he may have had by virtue of his being President. Too, Mr. Truman isn't known for his military and economic acumen.

The leaders of the three previous administrations must now realize the full meaning of the advice of General MacArthur when he warned against "getting bogged down in an Asian war." Some men, well familiar with East Asia and its people, fear that this country—now that we have our hook lodged in Viet Nam—will be burdened with a peace-keeping job in that area for many years. Far-sighted Gen. MacArthur's warning wasn't needed and now we know what he meant—and why.

Employers have changed or they're getting older, or something. It was reported last week that a California paper company girl employee was was sent home by her boss when she showed up for work wearing tight - fitting stretch pants to go wtih her 39-27-39 statistics. She was quoted as saying, "I don't know why they singled me out. They said something about me being too stacked, and sent me home." Such innocence—if true— is both pleasing and refreshing. But something must be wrong with the story; employers aren't changing that much.

Courage, like gold and oil, is where you find it. But you don't expect to find a big bundle of courage wrapped up in a small package of femininity, you look for it in brawn and muscle. Last week in Pittsburg a 104 pound girl proved that there are exceptions when a thief snatched her purse and ran. The girl kicked off her high heels and overtook the purse snatcher at an intersection, clobbering him on the head with a sharp heel until he handed over the purse. Few women—or men— would have attempted such a chore. But again, courage is where you find it.

It's reported that TV people are playing it safe this season, in keeping the ballyhoo of new shows at a lower tempo than last year. This is as it should be. The blasts last season about the new shows were so far ahead of what was delivered that the public was sadly disappointed. TV has become an important bit of the entertainment world and it's too bad that viewers, particularly in 1966, have been presented with so much rubbish to entertain them, some of which was seemingly angled toward viewers with the mental level of a moron.

The money experts in the world of finance are puzzled an uneasy about the outlook in this country. According to a recent report Wall Street is simply unable to understand why the stockmarket has been nicked for a loss of more than 200 points since the all-time high early this year. All sorts of reasons have been advanced for the market's doldrums; except the right one. This is perhaps, intentional on the part of the experts, for fear of worsening the situation. But the whole trouble is traceable to a lack of confidence in the country's immediate future, and the stability of the dollar.

Last week Rep. Wright Patman was reported to be plugging for legislation that would lower interest rates straight across the board. Mr. Patman appears to think lower rates would stimulate borrowing and lending and thus give the economy a shot in the arm. With inflation raising its ugly head higher and higher, in the present state of the economy, further artificial stimulation would be highly questionable. Moreover, private debt in this country is already at an all-time high—perhaps for the good of
